KESHER: CREATING JEWISH CONNECTIONS THROUGHOUT THE AGES

Had we lived in the time of the Temple, our observance of Passover would be focused less on the koshering of our homes and the purchase of proper Kosher foods for the holiday and more on the preparation for the Pilgrimage. In Temple times, we would pack up our families and make the journey to Jerusalem taking the provisions that were needed for the holidays.

The men would procure a lamb for the Seder while the women would bake matzah on a makeshift stove and prepare the food for the meal. That night each family would roast the Pesach, the lamb, on an open flame and tell the story of the going out of Egypt. The power of hearing the story told by thousands of families gathered and seeing the Temple before you made for one of the most powerful Jewish, spiritual and communal experiences imaginable.

For us, the religious experience has always been intertwined with the familial and the communal. After the destruction of the Temple, the Jewish religious experience continued through the development of the home and the evolution of the synagogue. Our age is no different. In every study of American Jewry, the importance of community remains paramount for Jews.

In our internet savvy and social media focused society, opportunities to meet other Jews face to face, or share an in-person group experience is more challenging. Our response at Anshe Emet has been to create a series of Friday night experiences for different age cohorts in our community. We offer a service for young families and another for young adults. There is “Anshe Emet Live” for those who are drawn to an innovative musical experience with prayers put to modern modes and great instrumentalists. More recently we have created “Shabbat As You Are”- a service in the round with a fully transliterated siddur and well known songs to ensure congregational participation. We are building and enhancing our community.

Beginning on April 21 we are adding a new Friday experience for people 50 and above. It is based upon our success with the “Something for Us” community. On the third Friday night of each month we will hold a Kesher/Connect Service. The service will feature a pro-neg, a gathering with wine and cheese beginning at 6:45 p.m. and an abbreviated and participatory service with an interactive conversation starting at 7:30 p.m. Hazzan Mizrahi will share the melodic joyful melodies of minyans like Nava Tehilla of Jerusalem with the full participation of the community. The discussion will be a lively learning opportunity with either a text, a speaker, or simply a conversation on a relevant topic. Following the service there will be an Oneg Shabbat which will give people the opportunity to schmooze. Some months, the Kesher/Connect Service will feature Anshe Emet Live. While the Kesher/Connect Service is aimed at a specific age cohort, like all of our prayer opportunities at Anshe Emet, everyone is always welcome.

We have come a long way since the Pilgrimage to Jerusalem during Pesach, but some things remain the same. Jews are still searching for the Jewish and communal connections. Please plan on joining us for any or all the Friday night experiences that we offer during the month. We look forward to the inauguration of the Kesher/Connect Service as we strive to fulfill our mandate and transform Anshe Emet into a true center for Jewish life.

ACTIONS DEFINE OUR FAITH

After Kol Nidre 2016, I had the privilege to speak with you about how Judaism is an action-oriented religion. While we may have beliefs, while we may have crises of faith, I shared how Rabbi Abraham Joshua Heschel explained that Jews define their faith by their actions. And while predictable, all this theology led to my appeal to you to contribute generously to our Tree of Life and Sustaining Fund.

I am pleased and proud to say that, since that night, our members have defined their faith, have acted, and have given... and given quite generously. Thank you! Thank you! In fact, as I write this article, our Tree of Life, those that give $10,000 or more, is now comprised of a historically high 27 members! Thank you for your generosity. And you might recall that I asked for unanimous participation among our member families, saying, "If 8 million people can donate at least $27 to support a Jewish guy from Vermont in his quest for the Presidency, then hundreds of our members who have not previously contributed can donate at least $27 to our Sustaining Fund." And wonderfully, many people who have not previously donated have given at least $27. Also beautiful. Thank you!

As Pesach begins, we have 2 months left in our fiscal year and have many goals to accomplish not only to close out this year on a fiscally sound note but to start off next year in a positive manner. Still, less than 50% of our members contribute to our Sustaining Fund, which is critical to providing the staffing, programming, food and the like which makes our community experience so rich. It may take a village, but it also takes money.

Your continued generosity is essential. Please give to our Tree of Life or Sustaining Fund. Help us make this the year in which Anshe Emet members defined their faith through their generosity. We do great work here but need your continued support to achieve our goals. Thank you for your support, your generosity and for making Anshe Emet the beautiful community that we share. A happy Pesach, a meaningful Pesach to you and your families.

Menschen of the Month

Geoff Rice
Geoff has made a remarkable difference in our Purim celebration this year. Geoff portrayed James Corden in the Anshe Emet Purim Shpiel, “Carpurim Karaoke” and as the emcee for the Sanctuary Megillah Reading. He devoted endless hours in preparation and during the filming process as well as multiple rehearsals to ensure success. His substantial role contributed to a fun and well received video and a seamless Purim production. Geoff is the husband of Dan Lange and the dad to daughter; Harper.

Adam Rubenfire
Adam joined the YAD (Young Adult Division) board this year and has taken on the role as Membership and Outreach chair. From the beginning, Adam has taken it upon himself to meet with new and prospective YAD members for coffee. He follows up with our new YAD members making sure they know about upcoming Anshe Emet and YAD events. At our YAD First Friday Shabbat Services and Dinners, Adam always has a warm and welcome “hello” and makes sure that everyone feels at home. He is always thinking of new initiatives to outreach to the young adults in our community. We are so appreciative of Adam’s hard work on behalf of our Young Adult community.

Robert Stern
Bob has been the director, producer, (the entire) film crew, and editor of the Anshe Emet Purim Shpiel for multiple years. He has devoted tremendous hours to ensuring that each video is cohesive, streamlined and creative. The Purim videos that Anshe Emet produces have been shared around the country and have received excellent commentary. Anshe Emet is thankful for Bob’s work in elevating Anshe Emet’s presence during this special holiday time! Bob is the husband of Cindy Stern.

On behalf of a grateful community, you have our heartfelt appreciation for your vital work!

COMMEMORATING YOM HASHOAH, YOM HAZIKARON, AND YOM HA'ATZMAUT

When someone announces that the High Holy Days are coming, we generally assume that fall is soon arriving, and we should prepare for Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur. Rabbi Donniel Hartman, however, offers an alternative perspective for this season’s High Holy Days: “The Jewish national calendar of Israel is populated by new holidays that Israel has placed at the center of our national and Jewish consciousness and which define and set aside the most significant time of the year in Israeli society. These holidays—bunched together within one week—are Yom Hashoah (Holocaust Memorial Day), Yom Hazikaron (Memorial Day for Fallen Soldiers) and Yom Ha'atzmaut (Independence Day). It would not be an exaggeration to say these three days together constitute the “High Holy Days” season of Israeli life.”

We at Anshe Emet take these “High Holy Days”, that are the center of national and Jewish consciousness, seriously.

On the eve of Yom Hashoah, Sunday April 23 at 7:00 p.m., we will have a memorial service for all those who perished in the Shoah (Holocaust). Following that we will hear the story of Ovadia Baruch. Ovadia Baruch was deported from the Greek town of Thessaloniki to Auschwitz. The city was a target for the Nazi regime because of its cosmopolitan population and the large Jewish community. We will watch the touching film, “May Your Memory Be Love,” with a special Ladino song in commemoration of the Greek communities wiped out in the Holocaust.

On Monday, May 1, we will mark the transition between Yom Hazikaron (Memorial Day for Fallen Soldiers) and Yom Ha'atzmaut (Independence Day). As Rabbi Hartman writes, “the sadness of Yom Hazikaron does not give new meaning to Yom Ha’atzmaut; rather it gives it gravitas. It reminds us of the price we paid and, as a result, the care, responsibility and duty we have to build a great country and to live and to give our lives special meaning.”

Beginning at 6:00 p.m. on May 1 we invite you to join us as we celebrate 69 years of Israel’s Independence. Please look out for more details – we cannot wait to celebrate with you! These three days–these “High Holy Days” of Israeli life–are significant commemorations in our community. They are central to our national and Jewish consciousness. We hope that you join us as we commemorate them together.

Ovadia Baruch.

JBC CORNER

As we celebrate Passover this month we relive not only Exodus, but we take the steps toward our covenantal relationship with God. One essay question for the JBC students is: What does it mean to you to enter this covenant? Here is one approach by a recent graduate:

The covenant between God and the Jewish people is the start of our story. The covenant shows God’s love for the Jewish people and the Jewish people’s love for God while also highlighting how very human we are. For example, the covenant marks the beautiful relationship between God and Moses and the faith they placed in each other. At the same time, it shows the painful disappointment God feels when the same people who were saved started worshiping false idols. What I love most about discussions of the covenant is that it shows that our relationship with God is a give and take. We cannot take from God freely, and when we give, it is with so much in return.

When I live out a mitzvah, I feel like I am welcoming God into my life in a very purposeful and meaningful way. When I walk through my door and look at the mezuzah, or pass up a cheeseburger, I am recognizing God’s presence in my life. In the same way, these mitzvot have given so much meaning to my life. When I light candles on Shabbat or sing the Shema I feel more at peace than at any other time.

The covenant is the greatest exchange of love and responsibility. The covenant is a promise carried through every Jewish generation. As a Jew, the covenant is a promise to carry Jewish thought and tradition. As a Jew entering this ancient and sacred promise, I feel that I am now taking on the responsibility of respecting the give and take relationship between God and the Jewish people. Joining the covenant means joining unconditional love.

Passover: From Darkness to Great Light

L’chi-bach I’foer ... I’varech ... I’ni she ... Hotzii-anu meavdat I’cherut, mi-yagon I’simchah, u-me’evel I’yom tov ... afela I’or gadol ...

Therefore we are in duty bound to give thanks ... to bless ... God Who brought us forth from slavery to freedom, from sorrow to rejoicing, from mourning to festivity, (and) from darkness to great light (Mishnah Pesachim 10:5).

With these words, written in the context of the second century Roman exile, the rabbis both instruct and inspire the Jews of their time and of the centuries to come. As God redeemed the Israelites through the first Passover, bringing them “from darkness to great light,” so God will in every time restore the Jews to their heritage through their Passover celebrations. These words from the Mishnah were a message of hope to those second century Jews who had lost their Temple and, with it, their independent national and religious existence. Through their engagement with the rituals of Passover, they could re-experience the passage from slavery to freedom in their own troubled times. Similarly, we are commanded to participate in the seder, re-experiencing the great event it commemorates and making it our own.

But how do we make the events of a far-off time and place our own? The rabbis tell us how: by engaging in a series of ritual actions that recreate the correct emotional flow, the particular set of emotions that can connect us to our history, that can make past moments into present ones and present moments replications of past ones.

Preparing for Passover

CLEAN, CLEAN, CLEAN! Passover doesn’t begin with the seder, and if you think it does, you’ve missed half the experience! Clean your house! If you don’t keep kosher yet, consider starting with Passover. The traditional reason for this complete makeover of the home, and in particular, the kitchen, is to rid the house of hametz (leavened material). Also, Passover is the time of renewal and rebirth. What better way to experience renewal than by sweeping out the old and bringing in the new? And Passover is the time of redemption - the way to prepare for redemption is with symbolic purification. For the children of Israel, their wilderness experience acted as a mikveh (ritual bath), purifying them for entry into the Land. On the borders of the Land, under the leadership of Joshua, they were circumcised and observed the Passover. Similarly, we renew and purify ourselves and our environment through the common act of housecleaning.

Kashrut

The Bible prohibits the eating of Chametz during the festival of Passover (Exodus 12:15-20). The word Chametz is translated as “leavened bread.” Basically it refers to food prepared from five species of grain-wheat, barley, oats, spelt and rye—that has been allowed to leaven. Some common examples of Chametz are leavened breads, biscuits, crackers, cereals, and all liquids that contain ingredients or flavors made from grain alcohol. To this, Ashkenazi rabbis added a further category called Kitniyot, which would include rice, millet, corn and legumes and any derivative products such as corn oil and mustard. On the issue of Kitniyot, Sephardic, Yemenite and Oriental Jewish custom varies from one community to another. In 2016, the Conservative movement approved a legal decision regarding the permissibility of Kitniyot during the holiday. You can find the entire position at the following link: http://tinyurl.com/PermissibilityofKitniyot. Please note that that Kitniyot, though traditionally prohibited by Ashkenazim, are not chametz. Accordingly, Kitniyot have no effect on the Kashrut of the dishes, pots or utensil with which it comes into contact.

Permitted foods (these require no Kosher L’Peshach label but must be in unopened packages or containers) include natural coffee, sugar, tea, salt, pepper, fresh fruits, nuts (not peanuts), eggs, fresh fish, and vegetables (except for peas and beans for Ashkenazim). Or, if certified Kosher L’Peshach by rabbinical authority: matzah, matzah flour, Passover noodles, candies, cakes, beverages, canned and processed foods, jam, cheese, jellies, relishes, condiments, margarine, dried fruits and vegetables, salad oils, vegetable gelatin, shortenings, vinegar, wines and liquors. Cottage and cream cheese and sour cream must have certification. It is recommended that you purchase enough pure milk and butter before Passover to last throughout the holiday.

Dishes and Utensils

Only dishes and utensils specially reserved for Passover should be used, with the following exceptions: silverware, knives, forks, and spoons made wholly of one piece of metal. If used during the year, they may be used on Passover if thoroughly scoured and immersed in boiling water. All table glassware is permitted after thorough scouring and soaking. Fine translucent chinaware, if not used for a year, is permitted. Metal pots and pans used for cooking purposes only (but not for baking) if made wholly of one piece of metal, although used during the year, may be used on Passover if first thoroughly scoured and immersed in boiling water. Utensils used for baking during the year should not be used during Passover. Earthenware, enamelware, and porcelain utensils used during the year may not be used on Passover.

Preparing the Kitchen

The stove is prepared for Passover by thoroughly scrubbing and cleansing all parts and turning on full flame for 1/2 hour in bake oven and all grates. A dishwashing machine may be used for Passover after thorough scouring with boiling water and with a new tray; however, a metal tray may be used since it will be kasherized in this process. Leave the dishwasher for 24 hours, then run it through a day’s worth of cycles. A microwave oven may be used after thorough cleaning and boiling water in it.

Tzedakah

Give tzedakah before any religious act, including before Shabbat and holidays or attending the synagogue. Giving tzedakah for Passover emphasizes the communal nature of being Jewish -- we are obligated to see that all Jews have the opportunity to share in this great communal observance. The form tzedakah takes for Passover at Anshe Emet Synagogue is contributions to the Ma’ot Hittim Fund. Make this contribution a family project, and make it concrete and visible for young children.

Bedikat Chametz

Jewish mystics linked removal of hametz to purification from sin. Bedikat Hametz (pre-Passover symbolic search for any remaining hametz) is performed with total concentration and seriousness of purpose. The found hametz must be burned the next morning.
Selling of Chametz
The eating, use, or possession of chametz during Passover is strictly forbidden. Chametz that is not disposed of before Passover may not be used after the holiday. Such chametz, which has not been destroyed, is locked away and its ownership transferred from us through contractual sale to non-Jews and bought back from them after Passover. You may designate Rabbi Siegel as your agent for the sale of your chametz no later than April 10. Please use the form below for this purpose, or find our online sale form at www.ansheemet.org/sellyourchametz.

Leading a Seder
Go to your local Jewish book store, browse through the Haggadot, and select one that satisfies you personally. Copies for everyone at your seder represent a significant investment, so you may want to experiment before you make that major decision. We recommend:

A Different Night (Shalom Hartman Institute) as it contains a wealth of interactive material.
The Feast of Freedom (The Rabbinical Assembly). Please note that The Feast of Freedom has excellent commentaries but few transliterations. If children will be present at your seder, select an appropriate children’s Haggadah. Plan other Passover related activities to entertain them during the longer segments.

This year consider the following Sefardic custom: The leader of the seder dresses up as if she/he is going on a journey with a hat, coat, and knapsack or suitcase. This will definitely make the children curious as to where we are going. The seder leader then explains that we are journeying out of Egypt. You also might want to serve a snack so that everyone can enjoy the seder without the hunger pains.

It is important to spend a few moments planning how readings will be assigned. Participation should not be limited to letting everyone read a different paragraph in turn. You may photo-copy a section of the Haggadah with easily understandable commentary and send it to a participant of your Seder so that they might prepare. We would encourage the leader to delegate responsibilities in the seder based upon strengths and sensibilities. For example, ask someone with good Hebrew to do the Kiddush, another with a psychology background to present the Four Children, a drama person to act out the ten plagues and someone with musical ability to help lead the singing.

The Haggadah indicates the places for traditional chants/songs, and you can bring in non-traditional songs that are connected thematically to a reading. American folk songs and modern Israeli tunes can be added to traditional seder songs to enrich the singing and the fellowship of the meal. It matters little if the seder is conducted in English or Hebrew. What is truly important is that the seder be meaningful and fun!

DETAILS

GOOD DEEDS DAY: Good Deeds Day is an international day of “doing good,” founded in Israel in 2007. Participants from over 75 countries throughout the world perform good deeds, proving that any single person can make a difference in their community. The Religious School will do its part, providing opportunities on that Sunday morning, April 2nd for our students to contribute to the community at large – including Maot Chittim – and by providing resources for families to continue the momentum in the afternoon at home and around town!

3RD GRADE FRIDAY EVENING SERVICE & DINNER: On one Friday evening during the school year, we invite the families from each of our younger grades to share in a special Shabbat service led by the children, followed by a traditional Shabbat dinner. The 3rd Grade experience at the end of April is particularly meaningful, as each of our students will be presented with a new Lev Shalem prayer book, encased in the unique personalized covers created during the 3rd Grade Family Program at the end of March!

8TH GRADERS GATHER AT MILT’S
This year, 8th graders from the Joseph & Belle Braun Anshe Emet Religious School (Conservative), the Temple Sholom Religious School (Reform) and Anshe Sholom B’nai Israel (Orthodox) have been gathering on periodic Sunday morning to meet, learn about each other’s denominations in a lesson with clergy and get a congregational tour! At the end of March, all the students will be visiting Anshe Emet for some ice breakers, a stained-glass window exploration and a conversation with Rabbi D’ror Chankin-Gould. The last session of this program will be on April 30, when they will all meet at Temple Sholom for a similar tour and lesson, followed by brunch at Milt’s!

MENTORS NEEDED!
As part of the Anshe Emet Sisterhood: Ohel Emet V’daat - Our Tent of Truth and Knowledge

Ohel Emet V’daat - Our Tent of Truth and Knowledge strives to expand the knowledge and meaning of all things Jewish, explore and share family traditions between generations and empower women with Jewish identity from all areas of our community! By creating both group events and one on one mentoring opportunities, we strive to have the women of our community make connections and build personal relationships while gaining confidence in religious rituals and knowledge.

For more information on any of the Ohel Emet V’daat initiatives, please contact Sisterhood President, Marlene Reid at mreiddpm@gmail.com.

ANshe EMET WOMEN’S STUDY GROUP:
WINE, WOMEN AND WALKING WITH GOD
April 4, 7:00 p.m., Part three – God in modern Jewish thought.
The 20th century saw the rise of technological feats alongside barbarism and great destruction. What kind of world is this, modern Jewish thinkers have asked, and how does our God operate within it?

We will learn together through text study, discussion and personal exploration. We’ll also study in hevrutah, the traditional pairing of two people which leads to a deeper, collaborative understanding of our tradition. Registration is closed.

GET INVOLVED!
The Sisterhood is looking for a few good Sisters!! If you are interested in getting involved, planning a program or being a part of our new generation to generation mentoring program, or for more information on the Mentoring Program or to become involved with the Sisterhood, please contact Marlene Reid at mreiddpm@gmail.com.

In addition to these group sessions we are starting a one to one mentoring program for those that may want a “shul buddy” to sit with on occasion to help follow the service and the Siddur. It you are interested in being matched with a buddy please email Nitzanit Breitenstein at mbreiten@rcn.com.

Thursday, April 6: A Fairly Good Time, by Mavis Gallant. Shirley Perriguy is an original. Derided by the Parisians she lives among and chided by her fellow Canadians, this young widow—recently remarried to a French journalist named Philippe—is fond of quoting Jane Austen and Kingsley Amis and of using her myopia as a defense against social aggression. As the fixed points in Shirley’s life begin to recede—Philippe having apparently though not definitively left—her freelwheeling, makeshift, and self-abnegating ways come to seem an aspect of devotion to her fellow man.

Thursday, May 4: The Little Red Chairs, Edna O’Brien. One night, in the dead of winter, a mysterious stranger arrives in the small Irish town of Cloonoila. Broodingly handsome, worldly, and charismatic, Dr. Vladimir Dragan is a poet, a self-proclaimed holistic healer, and a welcome disruption to the monotony of village life. Before long, the beautiful black-haired Fidelma McBride falls under his spell and, defying the shackles of wedlock and convention, turns to him to cure her of her deepest pains. Then, one morning, the illusion is abruptly shattered.

Thursday, June 1: The Last Painting of Sara de Vos, Dominic Smith.

Know someone new to the neighborhood?
If you know someone new to the Chicago Jewish community, who you believe would be interested in finding out about Anshe Emet Synagogue, please contact Amy Karp at 773-868-5139, so we can speak to them about all of the wonderful religious, spiritual, educational and communal opportunities the synagogue has to offer.
MEN'S CLUB MENSCHEN/MENTION

The great talents of Anshe Emet gathered once again on March 4 for another outstanding Men's Club Annual Talent Show. This year's stars included the superb talents of our own Hazzan Alberto Mizrahi, Ritual Director Naomi Weiss, Religious School Principal Aaron Frankel, Shireinu, Debby Lewis, Jon Norton, Tom Platt, and many more! We also enjoyed the beautiful songs and music of our featured guest star, international indie-folk-pop singer/songwriter Celia Rose. You can check her website to see where else she is performing in the Chicago area: https://www.celiarosemusic.com. Thanks to all of our stars and to all of those who attended to cheer them on. Special thanks to Larry Kosova and Debby Lewis who diligently worked to coordinate all of the moving parts of this event to make it so successful. Please keep our Talent Show in mind for next year if you have a special talent that you would like to share with us or if you just want to have a very fun and enjoyable evening with your fellow congregants and friends.

It always is difficult writing a month in advance for our Newsletter so I cannot say much now about our Passover Wine Tasting at Binny’s on March 13 except that your Men’s Club will once again have assisted you with this integral part of your Passover preparations. We will have again partnered with Sisterhood to host a wonderful opportunity to sample and purchase from a huge assortment of KP wines at very competitive prices and NO SALES TAX.

We are very pleased and proud to have presented our honorees for the Midwest Region of Jewish Men’s Clubs Annual Man/Youth of the Year—Gregg Pollack and Charlie Sinder, respectively. The Regional award luncheon was held on March 19 at North Suburban Synagogue Beth El Highland Park. I hope that by now you had an opportunity to read the summaries of Gregg’s and Charlie’s numerous accomplishments on behalf of our Jewish community in our weekly emails. If so, then I am sure you agree that that they are very worthy of this honor.

Mark your calendar for Men’s Club Shabbat on April 1. Our members will be leading our congregation for the entire Shabbat service. Come and daven with us and support our efforts. Also note that Men’s Club once again will be providing a special Yom HaShoah and Yellow Candles Program on April 23. The details for this program will be available very soon.

Feel free to contact us at mensclub@ansheemet.org to provide your input and find out the latest about our activities. If you have not become a Men’s Club member, then by all means please do so. This is an essential component of our Anshe Emet Jewish community that is needed to maintain and expand our Jewish community. We hope to see you soon as we are incomplete without you.

WEIZMANN INSTITUTE: SCIENTISTS OF TOMORROW TOUR

Monday, April 3, 7:30 p.m. at Anshe Emet

A forward-looking conversation with Weizmann Institute graduate students brings graduate students to communities across the U.S. to share their personal stories, discuss life as a graduate student in science, and offer their thought-provoking views on the future of research in their fields.

For more than 50 years, the highly selective Feinberg Graduate School has awarded master’s and doctoral degrees and trained students for senior positions in academia, medicine, and industry. All students receive full scholarships so that they can devote their time to studying and immersing themselves in lab research alongside Weizmann scientists. Chartered by the State of New York, the school’s official language of instruction is English, which enables talented students from all over the world to attend. Last year, 42 countries besides Israel were represented at the school, adding to the lively, diverse atmosphere. Notably, half of all students are women.

COME MEET THE FUTURE!

We invite you to attend an engaging conversation with students of the Feinberg Graduate School (FGS), Weizmann Institute of Science, Israel.

From Gary Porton

Fraeda and I participate in the Dor L’Dor program for several reasons. When we moved from Champaign we needed a synagogue and Jewish community. We went “synagogue shopping” and visited Anshe Emet. Within our first year in Chicago, however, we needed more than a community and a synagogue; we needed a place to say kaddish, for Fraeda’s parents both died during that year. Anshe Emet not only provided a morning minyan, but it also offered a caring staff. We did not build the minyan ein house of prayer, a house of learning, and house of console, to study and to pray, to inform and to support anyone who wanted to benefit from Anshe Emet’s staff and programs.

As others made sure that we would have a synagogue, a staff, and programs to nurture our Jewish lives, so we want to ensure that future generations will find a synagogue, a staff, and programs to meet their needs. Jews live in the present but look to the past for guidance and to provide a foundation upon which future generations can build. We believe that our supporting Dor L’Dor helps to guarantee that those who need a place to pray, to learn, and to participate in a Jewish community will find all that place waiting for them whenever they seek it out. As we have benefited from the Anshe Emet Dor L’Dor Society and leave our Jewish legacy and values for generations to come.

Response Center

Some of the most difficult years of your life happen between the ages of 12 and 18 and often into your 20s. At Response Center, the goal is empowering youth to make healthy life choices. Response offers tweens, teens, young adults and their parents an array of services including prevention, outreach, counseling, leadership and sexual health services in a teen-friendly environment. And as Response has recently relocated to West Rogers Park, it is even more convenient for Anshe Emet families.

For information, please call 847-676-0078 or visit www.responsecenter.org. Or contact Anshe Emet’s JCFS liaison Ann Luban at annluban@jcfs.org or at 847-745-5420.

Looking for items to enhance your seder? The Bennett Library has numerous Haggadot to borrow to make your seder experience memorable and thoughtful.
