I am always impressed with how powerfully our community touches people's lives. It may be the knowledge that a loved one is being prepared for burial by our Chevre Kaddisha, or the comfort that grief counseling offers, or a meal prepared by our Chesed Committee. For others, it may be the premarital counseling before a wedding, or a Babies and Bagels group, a learning opportunity, or a youth group engagement. The fact is that Anshe Emet cares for its membership in a myriad of ways.

Recently, I sat down with a family to prepare for a funeral and was reminded that our congregation has a long history of making a meaningful difference in the lives of those who enter its doors. Dr. Norman Simon was a well-known nephrologist in Chicago. He was, in many ways, the doctor's doctor, respected by his colleagues and beloved by his patients. I knew that Norman and his brother Sheldon had a long history at Anshe Emet, but I was unaware of the seminal role that this institution played in his life. During the years of the Depression Norman's father passed away. He and his brother were left fatherless and their mother Mildred, a widow. She was a strong, determined woman and took over her husband's business. But what about his sons? Where would they go after school? The answer was Anshe Emet. This place was a second home for people like Norman and Sheldon and so many others. Hebrew School, Shabbat, and a number of other activities were made available to them. Truth be told, Norman almost didn't make the cut. It seems that he was a bit of a rabble rouser in his Hebrew school days, but his mother interceded and the Rabbi relented. Mildred's sons, Sheldon and Norman, made the most of their years at Anshe Emet and remained involved on every level. Moreover, when it came time to apply to college one of the rabbis encouraged a reluctant Norman to reach beyond what he thought was possible and apply to Harvard. The young man did and he was accepted. Years later this same person who was an inch from banishment became President of the congregation. Norman was President when I was hired as a Rabbi in 1982. I remember well how proud he was of this congregation and how passionate he was about our work. Throughout the years, Norman kept his involvement and led the morning service on the High Holy Days. These last few years have been difficult for Norman and his wife, Harriet. Yet, in the past few months two of his wishes were fulfilled. He was able to attend the High Holy Day services one last time and the Cubs won the World Series. At his funeral I listened to his children speak and each mentioned the importance of Anshe Emet and was heartened by our community's impact. It is also important to note that good deeds have a resonance all their own. Sheldon's children continue to usher on the High Holy Days and his nephew Scooter has taken a leadership role in both Bernard Zell and Anshe Emet. Witnessing Norman's funeral service in our sanctuary was an opportunity to pay tribute to a fine doctor and a Shul Mensch. However, it is not the end of an era, but a legacy that continues with a new generation. While we have much to do in the future, it is good to be reminded that we have a long history of being present for people and making a difference in their lives.

May God give us the strength to continue our sacred work and may the soul of Dr. Norman Simon be bound up in the bond of eternal life.

In my High Holy Days remarks, I referenced Rabbi Abraham Joshua Heschel who wrote that we define our faith by our actions. During that talk, I referenced two critical projects which were priorities for AES for this year ... and likely, for several more years.

First, we are proceeding, in collaboration with Bernard Zell, to renovate our building and better enable us to serve our community for decades to come. Second, we are reimagining our religious school program to better engage students with a leading edge approach. With one half year complete, let me update you on our progress on these essential projects.

Our building project is progressing well. Our goal is to renovate and update our building to better serve the needs of our community and better fulfill our Strategic Plan goal of providing a welcoming environment. Sub-goals include 1) enlarging our prayer spaces and providing the opportunity for multiple prayer experiences, 2) enabling our prayer spaces to be more conducive to community participation, 3) updating our community hall to be better able to hold celebrations, 4) providing a safe, secure, welcoming entrance and 5) better serving the needs of our friends at Bernard Zell whose population continues to grow. Our architects have developed a visionary plan which has been shared with the Board. It continues to be refined and costed, but provides the opportunity to get all of the above goals accomplished. Simultaneously, we are working to develop a fundraising and financing plan to facilitate such a project. We look forward to sharing the details at the appropriate time. Many thanks to Rabbi Siegel, Scooter Simon, Jay Goodgold and Barbara Haworth for your leadership.

The reimagining of our religious school is also progressing thoughtfully. Led by Rabbi Chankin-Gould, board member Dani Lazar and Sam Schwartz-Fenwick, we have assembled a group of 25 members of our community to form the LaAtid Task Force (‘To the Future’) who are going to develop a program which uniquely meets our community’s needs. The plan will be developed over 18 months, and will be piloted and then launched over 2 years. They have first focused on understanding what is currently going on with children and education at Anshe Emet ... challenging assumptions, clarifying values, eliminating constraints. The next phase will include community conversations where members will get to share their visions and dreams for Jewish education. We want to develop a culture of learning, both formally and informally, a culture which embraces the diversity within Judaism and within our community. With the help of a renowned consultant, Rob Weinberg, we are attempting to move beyond models of education which were put in place decades ago. If you are interested in participating, please email Rabbi Chankin-Gould at dcgould@ansheemet.org.

Friends, these focused priorities are our pathway to a new Anshe Emet, one which will enable us to benefit our community for years to come. We have a bias to act and with that bias, will solidify the faith of our community.

THE ANSHE EMET SYNAGOGUE VISUAL BRAND REFRESH

By the time you see this article in the February newsletter, you will not need me to tell you that things are looking different in this edition! Your congregation has been undergoing a process for over a year to examine all of our communications and refresh our visual brand. In the next month you will see not only this newly formulated newsletter but also a new website and updated social media and synagogue communication materials. Hopefully you will be visually delighted!

We began over a year ago with the Strategic Marketing Initiative Task Force—a group of very talented marketing/communications professionals from within the congregation—Mimi Wallk, Susan Caplan, Leonard Rau, Ruth Rau, Lisa Weiner, and Jason Star—who met weekly to examine and strategize all forms of AES communication. Focus groups were engaged and their feedback critically examined. The intention is to create a visual brand refresh utilizing the current logo, colors and tagline. We will leverage brand elements to refresh our current marketing tools: website, email, newsletters, posters, social media, print ads and brochures. The new website should launch in February and we hope you will find it inviting, warm and contemporary. Additionally, it will be mobile responsive allowing for easy viewing on any electronic device.

This exciting project was staffed by Ashley Glas, AES Communications Coordinator. We owe her a giant round of applause for her diligent efforts to see this project through.

KAPLAN CONCERT 2017 – LIGHTS, CANTORS, ACTION

Historically, Broadway shows were turned into movies as the “talkies” took over the film industry. So much so that 100 were made and released in 1930 alone. Having exploded out of the silent film era, the public could not get enough of their favorite stars speaking and singing to them except for the few that unfortunately had heavy accents or terrible voices. There was never another year like it. Yet, although the number of like films released since then fell dramatically, it was not because of a lack of popularity or joy; it was economics. Nevertheless, as we see in the last few years, the joy and relaxation that both Broadway and Musical Films bring to us have made them a mainstay of the entertainment world since the early days of the 20th century. From the original Jazz Singer to its modern version of 1980, and continuing with a planned film of “Wicked” in 2019, people still flock to these exuberant and happy films!

And now, we bring you: LIGHTS, CANTORS, ACTION!

Our 2017 Arnold H. Kaplan Annual Concert will feature songs from The Wizard of Oz, High Noon, Funny Girl, Fame, Yentl, Exodus, The Prince of Egypt and many more! Our cast includes the fabulous voices of Cantors Susan Lewis Friedman (Beth Emet Free Synagogue, Evanston), Shira Ginsburg (East End Temple, Manhattan), Thom King (Beth El Congregation, Baltimore), our own Anna Gotskind [who wowed the crowd at last year’s Kaplan Concert], and your Hazzan. We will be accompanied by the magnificent ensemble of the immensely talented Don Cagen, in a popping exciting program of some of the best music to come out of Hollywood, mostly by Jewish composers.

You do not want to miss this major event!

TELLING OUR STORY: WALKING WITH THE PROPHETS

Anshe Emet Synagogue Community-Wide Retreat
JCC Perlstein, Lake Delton, WI. May 5-7, 2017

We come from a legacy of Prophets who had the courage and artistry to speak out against injustice, rally their communities, and did so with poetry and style. On the Anshe Emet Retreat adults and children alike will explore the words of the Prophets and will find our own in the process, revealing the story of our people.

Please join the entire Anshe Emet community for a fabulous weekend of spirituality, learning, bonding for adults, and activities for kids, all within the serene setting of the Perlstein Resort at Camp Chi in Wisconsin! The Retreat is designed with all ages and demographics in mind. There will be adult-oriented programs like yoga, Torah learning with the Rabbis, poker night, happy hour, musical prayer, and more. There will be kid-oriented programs like games, sports, kid-friendly prayers, etc. No matter who you are the Retreat has something to offer: the chance to bond with others, reconnect to your Judaism, take a break from the city, and soak in the riches of this amazing community.

Attendees are also invited to join our Retreat book club. This year we are reading Rabbi Zoe Klein’s creative novel, imagining the life of the prophet Jeremiah, Drawing in the Dust.

To support the attendance of our full community, we have financial aid available. Please contact Brian Schmidt by email at bschmidt@ansheemet.org or by phone at 773-868-5125 with any questions. Registration will be open soon - watch this space!
TORAH SCROLL WORKSHOP

NAOMI WEISS-WEIL
Ritual Director
nweiss@ansheemet.org

On February 7 we will have a unique opportunity to learn with Sofer (Torah scribe) Rabbi Gedalia Druin. I have learned from him before, and his passion for the care of Torah scrolls is infectious! He will teach ways to empower the congregation to care for our Torah scrolls and prolong their lives and usage at Anshe Emet.

A 3-hour hands-on workshop will teach how to tell the difference between real problems and superficial issues. We will learn the correct way to handle and maintain our scrolls, as well as how to monitor the conditions in our Aron Kodesh. We will learn how to properly roll, lift and dress the Torah scroll and to appreciate the advantage of handling a scroll properly and the consequences when it is not.

This workshop will provide an opportunity for you to participate and contribute to the ongoing ritual life of Anshe Emet in a practical manner, and is an exciting and uplifting way for you to connect with Torah.

When: Tuesday, February 7, 6:00 – 9:00 p.m.
Cost: $10 for Anshe Emet Members; $20 for nonmembers. To register, please email Ritual Director Naomi Weiss, nweiss@ansheemet.org. Space is limited.

TORAH ON TAP WITH THE YOUNG ADULT DIVISION OF ANSHE EMET!

RABBI DAVID RUSSO
drusso@AnsheEmet.org

At the end of the Book of Esther, we are taught that when we commemorate the Purim holiday, we are meant to do 4 things:

1) Read the Book of Esther to retell the story of Purim (Megillah)
2) Give gifts of food to our neighbors (Mishloach Manot)
3) Give gifts to the poor (Matanot La'evyonim)
4) Have a party!

Ok, sounds like a basic enough list of things to do. What is interesting is how, in several communities, #4 – having a party – has become the central focus of commemorating the Purim holiday. Why is that? Where does this command stem from? What does it mean today? What does it mean for us to party, and celebrate, while also ensuring that our parties don’t get too out of hand?

If you are in your 20’s and 30’s, or know of people in their 20’s and 30’s, and would like to meet other great young Jewish professionals while talking about some of these fun Purim-related questions, join us at YAD’s Torah on Tap! We co-host Torah on Tap with Anshe Sholom and Temple Sholom every month. This month it will be at the Wilde Bar and Restaurant, on Thursday, February 23, at 7:00 p.m. Hope to see you there! For more information, be in touch with Sam Isenstein at sisenstein@ansheemet.org.

A PATHWAY TO JEWISH CONNECTION FOR FAMILIES OF 2-3 YEAR OLDS

dcgould@ansheemet.org

Her ways are ways of pleasantness, and all her paths are peace (Proverbs 3:17)

Every week as the Torah is taken out of the ark we sing these beautiful words from the book of Proverbs which couch the Torah in terms of “paths” and “ways.” In other words, Torah is not a destination but rather a journey. And indeed to live a robust and committed Jewish life is all about the “path” we traverse.

This year, Anshe Emet has been doing some deep thinking about how to shepherd young families along their own pathway. The Chicago community received a generous grant, facilitated through CFJE, to utilize the AMAZING UpStart to coach Jewish leaders in how to innovate in education. As part of the CHIddush cohort, Anshe Emet has joined a group of Chicago synagogues in using design-thinking to boldly imagine how we might take our educational efforts to the next level. In particular, I am grateful to Anshe Emet member, and head of CFJE, Rabbi Scott Aaron, for spearheading this incredible opportunity.

As our part of the CHIddush project, AES chose to focus on the families of 2-3 year olds; how can we best serve the needs of these emerging Jewish families and support them in their Jewish journeys? Already we provide a few exciting programs: “Connecting the Expecting” brings together expectant parents for 6 weeks of relationship building and Jewish learning; “Babies and Bagels” offers parents of 0-2-year-olds a monthly opportunity to gather and sing together; and our new program “Little Builders” is starting to pilot Jewish learning opportunities for 2-3 year olds and their parents. Indeed, our fondest hope is to grow “Little Builders” into a more robust mainstay of the AES community. Already 20 families have registered for our four pilot programs, and led by Maxine Handelman, Amy Karp, and Cindy Friedman, the program is thriving.

But we want more. Our CHIddush team (Max Handelman, Amy Karp, Andrea Minor, Lauren Bednyak, and myself) have already attended several all-day seminars, formed an advisory committee, worked with a professional coach [Sari Gluckin], and devised a research strategy for how to immerse in deeper data. As a team we coalesced around the image of a “pathway.” Rather than imagining a series of discrete program opportunities, we are instead dreaming of the “path” which will connect emerging Jewish families to each other, to the synagogue, and to the Jewish people. How can we best facilitate that path? How can we guide people to find their own way? What tools do young Jewish families need along the journey? How can we support these brave travelers?

I could not be more proud of the work we are doing or more grateful for the leadership which is taking us here. In particular the two AES professionals, Max and Amy, combined with our fabulous lay leaders, Andrea and Lauren, are dreaming big dreams for our community. My hope is that if you have insights or dreams to share, you will turn to our team to help us know what you need, what you long for, and how we can walk with you along your own path. Together we will continue to cultivate a pathway which is pleasant, which is peaceful, and which carries young Jewish families to new heights of engagement and excitement.

Rabbi D’ror Chankin-Gould

CELEBRATE TU B’SHEVAT

Tu B’Shevat (the fifteenth day of the Hebrew month Shevat) originated as the new year for the trees and dates back to Talmudic times. It is one of the four “new years” of the Jewish calendar--Rosh Hashanah being the most prominent. This year Tu B’Shevat is celebrated on Saturday, February 11.

Why do we need a new year for the trees? Certain mitzvot in the Torah necessitated knowing the age of a tree. Tu B’Shevat was the date established to compute the age of trees in this age. On each Tu B’Shevat the trees gain a year in age.

What exactly happens on this date to make it a “new year”? The rabbis’ most common explanation is that it is around this time the fruit of the trees begins to form, the majority of the winter rain has fallen, and the sap in the trees has risen. Trees played an important role in the life of our ancestors because of the desert climate in which they lived. People living in fertile climates were more likely to take for granted the many gifts which trees bestow - food, shade, housing, water and beauty.

Tu B’Shevat also became a day on which to commemorate our connection to Israel. Even though it is winter here in the United States, Tu B’Shevat falls at an appropriate time as far as Israel’s seasons are concerned. Tu B’Shevat is celebrated by eating the fruits that were typical of those growing in Israel. A tradition based on Deuteronomy 8:9 holds that there are five fruits and two grains associated with Israel as “a land of wheat and barley, of vines, figs, and pomegranates, a land of olive trees and honey.” It is also customary to eat a new fruit on which the blessing, shehechiyanu, can be said.

Many people have adopted the idea of a Tu B’Shevat seder. In recent years, Tu B’Shevat has also served as a springboard for discussion on ecological and environmental issues and for investigating traditional Jewish views on our relationship to the natural world.

WE ARE: ANSHE EMET | ENGAGED

GET INVOLVED!
The Sisterhood is looking for a few good Sisters!! If you are interested in getting involved, planning a program or being a part of our new generation to generation mentoring program, please contact Marlene Reid Kosova, Sisterhood President at mreiddpm@gmail.com.

EVENTS
February is the month for all things Shabbat for the Sisterhood!
SISTERHOOD MENTORING PROGRAM:

OHEL EMET V’DA’AT - OUR TENT OF TRUTH AND KNOWLEDGE,
We have several Shabbat learning events and participation events for our Sisterhood Shabbat.

SUNDAY FEBRUARY 12 at 11:15 a.m. we will have an Aliyot training session to become more comfortable going up for an Aliyah. Cantor Liz Berke will unpack both the meaning and the words of what it means to “be going up and receiving” an Aliyah. Reading Hebrew is not necessary as a transliteration is always provided at the Bimah.

February 4 and February 18 at 9:30 a.m., we will be having a Learner’s Minyan where Cantor Berke will walk us through a Siddur to provide a basic understanding of the parts of Shabbat morning service.

In addition to these group sessions, we are starting a one to one mentoring program for those that may want a “shul buddy” to sit with on occasion to help them follow the service and the Siddur. If you are interested in being matched up with a buddy, please email Nitzanit Breitenstein at mbreiten@rcn.com.

SISTERHOOD SHABBAT - FEBRUARY 25
Please join us in either the Main Sanctuary or the Rose Crown Minyan as we honor the women of our congregation for services conducted by women and partake in a post Kiddush learning opportunity with our Sisterhood Scholar In Residence, Tamara Frankel.

LOOKING FOR WOMEN TO HONOR WITH ALIYOT!
Finally, we are looking for women to participate in receiving Aliyot during the Sisterhood Shabbat on February 25. If you would like to partake in this honor, please email Marlene Reid, Sisterhood President at mreiddpm@gmail.com.

CHOCOLATE SEDER WITH HADASSAH, MARCH 28
So many women have been asking for a Sisterhood Seder and this year we are joining with Hadassah in the City to bring you a Chocolate Seder that will an evening that promises to be rich, smooth and filled with sweetness!

*For more information on the Mentoring Program or to become involved with the Sisterhood, please contact Marlene Reid at mreiddpm@gmail.com

COLLEGE CONNECTION
Calling all AES College Students or Parents of College Students. Help Anshe Emet keep in touch with your student during the school year. We mail fun, holiday packages [real mail!] Send your name, your student’s name, full college mailing address and email to aecollegeconnection@gmail.com.

BOOK CLUB
The Sisterhood reading group completed our fall discussion with Magda Szabo’s brilliant novel, The Door. Rachel Jacobsohn, who has been our facilitator since 2002, has provided us with a most interesting list for our spring session. We always welcome new members. If interested, please contact Judy Metzger at Hgemetl@aol.com.

Thursday, April 6: A Fairly Good Time, by Mavis Gallant. Shirley Perrigny is an original. Derided by the Parisians she lives among and chided by her fellow Canadians, this young widow recently remarried to a French journalist named Philippe—heavily in love—has provided us with a French journalist named Philippe—a fond of quoting Jane Austen, Kingsley Amis and of using her myopia as a defense against social aggression. As the fixed points in Shirley's life begin to recede—Philippe having apparently fallen in love with her—her freewheeling, makeshift, and self-abnegating ways come to seem an aspect of devotion to her fellow man.

Thursday, May 4: The Little Red Chairs, Edna O’Brien. One night, in the dead of winter, a mysterious stranger arrives in the small Irish town of Cloonola. Broodingly handsome, worldly, and charismatic, Dr. Vladimir Dragan is a poet, a self-proclaimed holistic healer, and a welcome disruption to the monotony of village life. Before long, the beautiful black-haired Fidelma McBride falls under his spell and, defying the shackles of wedlock and convention, turns to him to cure her of her deepest pains. Then, one morning, the illusion is abruptly shattered.

Thursday, June 1: The Last Painting of Sara de Vos, Dominic Smith. Dominic Smith deftly bridges the historical and the contemporary, tracking a collision course between a rare landscape by a female Dutch painter of the golden age, an heirloom of the work in 1950s Manhattan, and a celebrated art historian who painted a forgery of it in her youth.

THE NIGHT MINISTRY
The Night Ministry volunteers will continue their meal service with the Night Ministry this year. Contact Janine Landow-Esser to volunteer or donate. Janine811@gmail.com.

MEN’S CLUB MENSCHEM/MENTION

Our Men’s Club event on January 23 was a rare opportunity to enjoy a presentation by Jerry Markbreit about his stellar 33-year career in the National Football League as we munched on kosher pizza and assorted beverages. As one of the few Jewish referees to officiate in the NFL, Jerry’s talk was of special interest to our members. The proceeds of this event will be donated to the B’nai B’rith Scholarship Fund for Jewish high school students who play a varsity sport to help them on their way to college. We hope you shared this exciting evening in Chicago sports history with us!

WORLD WIDE WRAP

The Federation of Jewish Men's Clubs annual World Wide Wrap will be held on Sunday morning, February 5, at 8:15 a.m. Once again, we will come together on the same Sunday morning with Men’s Club members all over the world for instruction on the proper way of putting on tefillin followed by a short morning minyan prayer service and refreshments. Not only can you brush up on your tefillin skills, but tefillin will be available for purchase at a very discounted price at the event for you or your children.

MIDWEST REGION ANNUAL MAN/YOUTH OF THE YEAR

We are very pleased and proud to announce our honorees for the Federation’s Midwest Region Annual Man/Youth of the Year—Gregg Pollack and Charlie Sinder, respectively. The Regional award brunch will be held on March 19, before the Kaplan concert, and we will provide you with biographies and RSVP information as it gets closer to the event.

THE MEN’S CLUB ANNUAL TALENT SHOW

The Men’s Club Annual Talent Show featuring the stars of Anshe Emet will be held on March 4 at 7:00 p.m. If you would like to be featured in the Talent Show, then please contact Larry Kosova (lkosova@yahoo.com) or Barry Balik (bmbguy03@yahoo.com). This is your big chance in show business. RSVP information will be available for attendees very soon.

PASSOVER WINE TASTING

For those who rely on Men’s Club for their Passover preparations, not to worry as we will be hosting our annual Passover Wine Tasting at Binny’s once again in March. The exact date and time will be announced very soon, too.

For those of you who would like to learn more about our international organization, check out the Federation of Jewish Men’s Clubs web site: https://www.fjmc.org/. There is a wealth of information on many cultural and religious aspects for Jewish men (and women). You also can subscribe to the FJMC emailed newsletter at: https://www.fjmc.org/content/signup-hashofar. Please attend and support our events as you see our ads in the synagogue emails and Bulletins. You will be glad you did. Feel free to contact us at mensclub@ansheemet.org to provide your input and find out the latest about our activities. We are incomplete without you.

7 JEWISH RESOLUTIONS FOR 2017

I try not to make resolutions as the New Year begins as I do not have a good history at success with my lofty goals by the time February enters the calendar. However, I was reading an article online this past week by Kate Bigam called “7 Jewish Resolutions for 2017” which struck a chord in me with the concept that these are goals I can accomplish. Here are the goals listed and ways in which Anshe Emet can possibly help.

1. “Start attending Services.” We are blessed at Anshe Emet to have a full array of services from Shalom Shabbat for our youngest members, The Family Services and Young Adult Services, the lay led participatory service of the Rose Crown Minyan, to the splendor of the Sanctuary service and our newly formed Shabbat as you are. Try one ... see for yourself the beauty of Shabbat.

2. “Study Torah.” There are two terrific opportunities to study the weekly Torah reading, one on Friday morning with Rabbi Siegel and one on Saturday morning with Rabbi D’ror. The participants in these programs RAVE about the learning and the camaraderie!

3. “Read a Jewish essay every day.” E Jewish Philanthropy, The Forward, The Jewish Book Review are just a few places to begin. The internet is full of amazing sites to read essays.

4. “Say a daily blessing.” It is Jewish tradition to say 100 blessings a day but let’s start with just one a day! There are blessings for when we rise, when we eat, when we go to bed and even when we see a rainbow. Try one ... see how it feels!

5. “Raise your voice for Justice.” In this tumultuous time, your voice is needed. Get involved with our Na’aseh group and take an active role in making a difference.

6. “Tune in to weekly Jewish wisdom.” Our own Rabbi D’ror recently delivered an ELI talk (the Jewish equivalent to a TED talk) which will soon be available to download. Until then, Moment magazine recently listed their top ten Jewish podcasts: http://www.momentmag.com/top-ten-jewish-podcasts/

7. “Take a class on Judaism.” Anshe Emet offers an amazing selection of Adult Education classes from Hebrew to Talmud, Israel and beyond. Engage in learning, meet new people and become more connected to your community.

YAD NOTES

Anshe Emet’s Young Adult Division (YAD) provides young Jewish adults with opportunities to meet, pray, play, learn and give back in a community setting. If you are in your 20s or 30s, coupled or single, consider being part of our community.

Anshe Emet Synagogue and Insuring a Better World Fund are working together to raise money for Anshe Emet

Do you have a life insurance policy that you no longer need, want or can afford? If you want to stop paying life insurance premiums, don’t throw your policy away. Please donate it for our benefit. You may be entitled to receive a valuable tax deduction for yourself; but much more importantly, your gift will support our mission.

We are pleased to announce that IABWF, a charitable foundation has offered to pay the premium on life insurance policies donated for our benefit. You will have no obligation to pay any future premium. Neither will we. The Insuring a Better World Fund (IABWF), which is sponsored by the InterVivos Foundation (a public tax-exempt charity), will pay for everything and distribute the net proceeds to us.

Although all types of policies (e.g., term, universal, whole, etc.) are accepted, not all policies will qualify to have their premium paid by IABWF. Generally, IABWF will consider paying the premium for policies donated from insureds who are at least 65 years old. If you are under 75 years old, there will need to have been a change in your health from the time you first purchased the policy. Your policy should also have a minimum death benefit of at least $400,000.

Finally, IABWF needs your permission to review your doctor’s medical file for underwriting purposes to determine whether your policy is suitable for donation. There are no medical exams. A donation of your policy to IABWF for the benefit of the Synagogue may not be for everyone; but we ask that you nevertheless carefully consider the wonderful impact your donation may have for the Synagogue.

You may be entitled to deduct the appraised fair market value of your policy (not just the cash value) on your income taxes. In many cases, the value of such a deduction may exceed what for-profit investors may net you in the sale of your policy in the “life settlement” market. We are not tax advisors and cannot give tax advice, so we urge you to consult with your attorney or tax professional for specific advice on your particular situation.

The best part is that Anshe Emet may receive distributions resulting from your donation while you are alive, allowing you to see the good work that your generosity has made possible. This is because, as a result of your donation, we will be entitled to a pro rata distribution from among the hundreds of policies similar to yours that are donated to IABWF.

Please contact IABWF directly at Donate@IABWF.org or 312-819-0790. Please remember to specify that you want to designate to be the beneficiary of your donation. You can find out more about IABWF at www.IABWF.org. Thank you for helping ensure a better world for everyone.
